CLASH OF AUTHORITY

In Regard to the Local Primary
In Louisville.

State Committee Calls It Off And Local Committee Refuses to Obey the Call.

Louisville, Ky., May 25.—A resolution declaring off this week's primary was passed Saturday by the Democratic State Central Committee by a vote of 8 to 3. The resolution declared that the non-salaried officers shall be nominated in a primary.

The list of the election officers will be published at least two days before the primary. If the chairman of the Louisville committee fails to comply with this the State Committee is empowered to take the steps necessary to bring it about.

The resolution fixes a date for the new primary at not later than August 1.

Messrs. Chinn, Adams and Vreeland, of the committee, voted against calling off the primary.

On Saturday night a meeting of Louisville candidates, leading lawyers and leading Democrats was held. It was held that the central committee exceeded its authority in calling off the primary and it was determined to hold the primary Tuesday notwithstanding. Chairman Young was called a political free-booter and the charge was made that he had sold out to the Republican party.

The Courier-Journal strongly backs up the local machine in defying the State committee and declares that the primary will be held to-morrow in spite of the State committee.

Yesterday Chairman Young addressed a letter to County Chairman M. W. Neal directing him to formally notify him by noon of his acceptance of the order calling off the primary, or he would remove the entire Louisville committee for disobedience and resistance of party authority. Following the order, the anti-Granger candidates in a body notified Chairman Neal that they accepted the decree and ordering him not to consider them candidates before the primary he proposes to hold anyhow.

A committee headed by Grainger and Vreeland called on Gov. Beckham Sunday but failed to secure any help.

It was expected that in the event Chairman Neal refuses to order off the primary, that Chairman Young will at once remove the local committee and appoint another in its stead.

The old committee backed by Grainger and the Courier-Journal will go ahead with the Grainger primary, with only one set of candidates, and the new committee will then order another primary which will be recognized by the anti-machine candidates. This means a wide open split and certain defeat in November for both tickets.

GOOD HOPE CHURCH

Selected as Place for Next Universalist Convention.

The Universalist annual state convention at Fruit Hill closed a three days' session Sunday night. Four churches were represented at the meeting. The attendance Sunday was very large. Rev. H. C. Beckett, of this city, preached the annual sermon Friday. A considerable sum of money was secured by subscription during the convention to assist in rebuilding the church at Crofton which was burned two weeks ago. Rev. Beckett, who has the matter of soliciting in hand, has succeeded in raising nearly all of the amount required and the church will be rebuilt at an early date.

Good Hope church, two miles west of Mannington, was selected as the next place of meeting of the convention in October, when a semi-annual session will be held.

RESIGNS.

Dr. W. L. Nourse Quits Presbyterian Pastorate.

His Resignation Accepted And Final Sermon Preached
Sunday.

Rev. Dr. W. L. Nourse, pastor of the Ninth Street Presbyterian church, resigned his pastorate Sunday morning and preached his retiring sermon. The resignation has been accepted and Dr. Nourse's connection with the church was formally ended yesterday.

Dr. Nourse is recognized as one of the ablest ministers of his denomination in Kentucky. He came to Hopkinsville in 1886 and had been pastor of the church for seventeen years. Recognized by all denominations as a minister of great ability and culture, he has enjoyed the confidence, respect and esteem of all the people of Hopkinsville.

The reason for his resignation were not made public, nor is it known what Dr. Nourse's future plans are. He owns a farm near the city and it is quite likely that he will continue to make his home here.

He leaves the church he has so long served in a strong and satisfactory condition.

It is considered one of the most desirable pastorates in the Presbytery to which it belongs.

NOVEL GAME.

Traveling Men Being Taunted Out of Money.

A novel game that seems to be making a lot of money for the promoters is being worked all over the country. A pamphlet copy of the story of a recent tragedy in Buffalo is being sent to traveling men at 60 cents c. o. d. The plan is to send the book to traveling men's addresses where they live, knowing that 90 per cent of them are away from home. Their families, thinking that absent drummers had ordered the book, readily pay the 60 cents c. o. d. and are mulcted of that amount of money.

Busy Signing His Name.

Surgeon General Robert N. O'Hare of the army, has spent most of his time at the office during the past few days in signing his name to papers authorizing the issue or reissue of artificial limbs to soldiers in need of such appliances. He has tuned himself and found he can write his name 25 times in two minutes or a little over 12 times a minute. To accomplish this he uses a quill pen, uses only the initials of his first and second name and omits all punctuation, save the apostrophe after the O. He considers it a good record, but there are other officials who do not think it "so much."

Spring Alliments.

There is an aching and tired feeling; the liver, bowels and kidneys become sluggish and inactive, the digestion impaired, with little or no appetite, no ambition for anything, and a feeling that the whole body and mind needs toning up. The trouble is, that during winter, there has been an accumulation of waste matter in the system. Herbine will remove it, secure to the secretions a right exit, and by its tonic effect, fully restore the wasted tissues and give strength in place of weakness. 50c at R. C. Hardwick.

The Voting Machine.

At the last municipal election held in this city the successful candidate for mayor was elected by a bare plurality of 73 votes out of a total of over 33,000, and yet within half an hour after the polls were closed the result was known to a certainty, while despite the closeness of the vote, there was not so much as an intimation of a contest on the part of the defeated candidate. Rochester had used the voting machine, and there was no chance to go behind the returns.

If the old paper ballots had been used there would undoubtedly have been enough void and marked ballots to form the basis for a contest with all its attendant expense and anxiety.

Rochester's experience with the machine during the past five elections has been so satisfactory that city officials, politicians and the public generally give it practically unanimous approval, and there is no desire to go back to the old system. Rochester feels that it is, in this respect at least, at the very forefront of progress.

The machine which is used in this city is often described as a mechanical Australian ballot. It insures secrecy to the voter, is simple and easy to operate, it never makes mistakes, it not only records but also counts the votes as they are made, and it presents the tabulated results of the precinct vote to the judges the instant the polls are declared closed. All that is left to do in order to get the result of the election is to add together the figures from each precinct in the ward, city or district, as the case may be. The machine is known as the United States Standard voting machine, and is made in Jamestown, N. Y.

The familiar cash register seen everywhere in stores is the contrivance which best illustrates the nature of the voting machine. The principle is very much the same, a locking device and a mechanism for computation being used, but at course the voting machine is much more complicated than the other.

The face of the machine, as it is presented to the voter, who stands before it, is about four feet square, and its depth is ten inches. It is supported on four steel legs, which bring the top of it about six feet above the floor. It weighs about 500 pounds and costs $500.

A movable curtain is hung in front of the machine, so arranged that it remains open while no one is using it, but is shut automatically as soon as the voter comes to it. The first thing the voter does is to reach up to a lever at the top of the machine and pull it to the right. The effect is both to close the curtain and unlock the mechanism so that one ballot for each office, and one only, is cast.

The voter then finds himself facing the machine on which are rows of small numbered pointers. Each candidate to be voted for is represented by one of these pointers, and each political party has its candidates named placed in a row horizontally across the front of the machine. The different candidates for the same office therefore have their names one beneath the other in the perpendicular column. At the left of each party row is a knob, on which is the name of the party and a symbol or emblem to represent it.

When the voter wants to vote a straight party ticket, the first thing he has to do, after he has moved the lever that unlocked the keys, is to press the knob which represents the particular party to the right until it rings a bell. This movement turns downward every one of the little pointers that represent the candidates of the party and places them in a voting position. It does not register the vote, however, as it is only a preliminary getting into position. To complete the vote and register and count it all the voter needs to do then is to seize the original lever which unlocked the keys and closed the curtain, and push it back to its old place. With that the curtain opens, the vote is recorded and the keys are relocked, preliminary to the appearance of another man ready to exercise his right of suffrage.

It is not much more difficult to split a ticket than to vote straight. To split the voter must first press the knob representing one of the political parties. For convenience he will use the knob of the party from which he chooses most of his candidates, but that is not essential. Any one of the knobs will do.

He then finds all the little pointers freely movable and at his service to arrange any way he chooses. He can replace as many of the pointers representing candidates on his ticket as he chooses, thus taking his vote away from them, and he can turn downward the pointers for candidates to corresponding offices on the other tickets.

If he has made a mistake and pressed the wrong party knob at the start, he can adjust the machine so as to vote straight for an entirely different ticket if he chooses.

All this moving of the pointers has no effect whatever on the registering and counting apparatus. The voter can take plenty of time and make sure that his ticket is fixed up the way he wants it. When all is ready he reverses the lever at the top of the machine, and steps out of the booth with his ballot counted before he leaves.

The machine also provides for the wishes of the voter who wants to vote for someone who is not a regular candidate on anyone of the tickets. Indeed, if it did not do this it would not be permitted by law, as the right to vote for whom he pleases, regardless of party tickets, is guaranteed each man by the constitution. At the top of the machine is a series of little slides, one for each office to be filled. To vote for men whose names are not on the ticket these slides may be opened and the name written on a slip of paper underneath. When he pulls the curtain lever the paper moves forward so that no succeeding voter can see what name was written on it.

Another provision of this machine is for "yes" and "no" votes for questions of bond issue, public policy or anything else that is submitted to ballot.

The voting can be done with great rapidity. It takes only a second to unlock the keyboard and no longer to lock it again, and a voter is ample for pressing a knob if a straight party ticket is voted. Fifteen seconds for each voter is considered ample for straight votes. For splits a little longer is required, but inside of a minute the ordinary man can fix his entire ballot. The Rochester returns for the last municipal election indicated to what extent the splitting privilege was exercised, as the pluralities ranged from 72 up to more than 4,000 for the successful Republican candidates.

The saving effected by the machine is also very great. There are none of the heavy printing bills to be met, and the clerical work of this election is greatly reduced. It is estimated that in three years voting machines will save enough money to the city to pay for their initial cost.

The voting is absolutely safe, as the ballots can never be tampered with. The identity of each vote is lost in the totals, which are all the machine keeps. There is nothing to tamper with and no chance for error. The cogwheels move with relentless accuracy and give certain results.

Judging from the success with which the machines have met wherever they have been used it would seem that the day is coming when the American citizen throughout the land will register his vote by machine. At the present time about 800 machines are in use in the country. Most of them are in New York state, although they are being used in Indiana, Wisconsin and Connecticut.

Laws similar to the New York enactment allowing the use of voting machines have been passed in the states of Maine, Massachusetts, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Connecticut, Indiana and Kansas.

At this year's gubernatorial election in New York state five ballot machines were used as an experiment in Greater New York, one being in Mayor Low's election precinct and another in Lieutenant Governor Woodruff's district. They seem to have given complete satisfaction—Rochester (N. Y.) Special to Chicago Record-Herald.

RUINED BY A RASH WAGER.

A rash wager has ruined many a man financially, but a rash wager ruined a man physically. He was proud of his strength and wondered that he could lift a ship's anchor. He won the wager, but the strain was too great for him and he broke down in health from that day.

There's many a man or woman who undertakes too great a task for the strength they possess. They won't give up, so they break down. The woman druggies in the house, the man toils in the store. They don't break down by one tremendous strain, but by a steady over-drain of their strength.

People who are run-down in health, deficient in vitality, worn-out or worked out, will find new life and strength in the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and so enables nourishment of the body. It purifies and enriches the blood, and builds up the body with sound muscle and solid flesh.

"When I commenced your medicine my health was completely broken down," writes Mrs. Minnie Lunsford, of Persepolis, Wis. "At times, generally after eating, was taken with terrible distress in stomach. Words fail to express what I suffered. My right arm was almost helpless—liver very much affected, and my nerves were so bad I was almost in hysterics. I was treated by two doctors, but all to no avail. For I was no better. I felt dreadfully discouraged, but thought I would try once more to find relief. I began to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription.' I gradually began to improve each day, and grew strong all over."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach and blood.

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE,
CHARLES H. HUSH,
OF CHRISTIAN.FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY,
DENNY P. SMITH,
OF TRIGG.

BUSH THE NOMINEE.

The Judicial District Committee at Eddyville, Friday, declared C. H. Hush the nominee for Circuit Judge by a majority of 177. It has been charged that they had no authority to do so, and that in doing so they "robbed" three Trigg county precincts.

It is conclusively shown in another column that the only committee in existence declared Bush the nominee. There were a crowd of insurgents, including only one county chairman, who met elsewhere and it is reported favored Cook's nomination in face of the facts.

It will be remembered that in 1900 Goebel was declared Governor of Ky., by the only competent authority. Taylor and his crowd refused to quit, and began this notorious prattle about trouble. These county committees have chosen to elect new chairman in three counties. The deposed gentlemen refuse to abide the committee's action. They will hold on by force, and if they cannot control the party they prefer to ruin it.

And the McKinley-Taylor-Yerkes organ, begins to speak of trouble. Not of party factions, except as it can be created by the agitation of a number of gentlemen who have already bolted more than once. The Taylor-Yerkes organ may fret and fume a little. But it will soon get over it. And the nominee of this primary will be elected.

The committee did disregard the vote of three Trigg county precincts. In one the vote had not been certified at all, not to say as the law requires. In the other two they voted, it is alleged, till about two o'clock. The record says till 4:30.

The court of appeals has said there is nothing else to do, but to regard such precincts. No party action. The court of appeals did that. The committee did that. What else could it do?

Judge Bush to arrive at a proper settlement proposed to Judge Cook to disregard all votes cast after four o'clock, and abide the result. Cook replied that he would insist upon disregarding all illegal votes, including Republican votes. Bush agreed, wrote up the agreement, and signed it. Cook and his advisers spurned the agreement, though he had proposed it. Why? He must have thought the illegal and Republican votes were all in his favor. That certainly would have settled the question, and the trouble the political editor foresees would have been completely obviated.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Once more the Courier-Journal is on the war-path, in spite of its off-repeated claim that it never, not even hardly ever, mixes up in fights inside the party. And it pains us to see that the Courier-Journal, like certain local organs that aspire to be bosses, is industriously engaged in delving party history.

EARNED MONEY TO STUDY ART

Some of the Ways Adopted by a Plucky Girl from Maine.
A bright girl who is just now in the first flush of triumph over the fact that she has secured employment with a New York decorating house scored a mark at the art school for the plucky way in which she earned money enough for her studies.

Her home, says the New York Sun, is in the state of lumber camps and picturesque harbors. One summer she worked with a comrade in an improvised laboratory, where the two made jellies, sweet pickles and preserves for sale. They made them out of fruit and berries which they picked in person.

After they got a start they employed the neighborhood boys and girls to pick fruit for them. But the art student took the lead in beating up trade and did much work that was unbecomingly in her effort to make enough money to keep her at school in New York in the winter.

The next summer when she went home she set up in the vegetable business and sold the proceeds of her garden patch to hotel and boardinghouse keepers. This paid fairly well, but involved hard work and much going about. And the next summer the indefatigable maiden bethought her of another plan for raising funds for living expenses, car fares, etc.

That year she had won a prize scholarship at the art school, but there were still many expenses to be met. Everybody who has been to Maine knows the network of islands on the coast knows how necessary the private ferry is to the tourists' convenience. A man in the art student's neighborhood had such a ferry which he was wane of tending. And the girl persuaded him to sublet it to her.

She ran the boat successfully all that vacation time, and made a most picturesque ferry woman in her short kilt skirt, trim shirt waist and sailor's hat. Once it got out that her venture was for the sake of art and not for notoriety, many people quartered in the various summer colonies thereabout made it a point to patronize her ferry whenever possible on their coming excursions. And some formed the habit of coming to the ferry merely to take a ride.

The toll she took in that summer exceeded by much the revenue from either jelly making or the selling of vegetables in the raw. The ferry girl is harnessed to a desk now for $20 a week, contracted to get out so many designs in decorative patterns during a stipulated time. She enjoys the idea of having attained a definite place in her New York career. But she looks back to those long days spent in the free air as to a pleasant experience.

After the first awkwardness wore off she enjoyed the task of ferrying people and she declares that if ever her eyes or hands or ideas give out in the artist's business she will start another passenger boat up there among the Maine islands.

CHRISTIAN COUNTY MAN

Elected Representative of National Association of R. P. C.

The following item concerning a well-known young man, formerly of Christian county, appeared in the Mobile, Ala., Daily Register:
"Mr. J. H. Clardy, of the railway mail service, clerk in charge on Jackson and Mobile railroad post office, has just been elected representative of the National Association of Railway Postal Clerks, which convenes in Washington, D. C. September 15. The fourth division comprises the states of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, South Carolina and Georgia, and is allowed only four representatives. Mr. Clardy's election is a well-earned compliment and his friends throughout the fourth division are assured that their interests and the welfare of the department will be safely guarded. The National Association of Railway Postal Clerks is a legislative association and many of its bills and measures originating in the association are endorsed and recommended by the postoffice department at Washington and are enacted into laws by congress. These conventions are held annually and the best men of the service are elected to fill these responsible positions. Mr. Clardy has received many congratulations and his friends here are jubilant over his election. For ten years he has made Mobile his headquarters and taken an active part in the railway mail service and associational affairs. On his return from Kentucky in the summer he will attend as representative the Washington convention."

NOT GUILTY

Was Verdict of Jury in Famous Hopkins County Case.

Officers Charged with Murder of Union Miners Acquitted at Madisonville.

The jury in the case of Deputy Sheriff J. B. Lindle and possemen Wade M. McIntosh and Edward Johnson, on trial at Madisonville, returned a verdict of acquittal Saturday.

The killing for which these men were on trial occurred between the posse and a body of armed union miners who were marching toward the properties of the Carbonade and Crabtree Coal companies in Hopkins county. The officers were trying to enforce a proclamation of the sheriff prohibiting unlawful congregations and demonstrations for the purpose of intimidation in the neighborhood of the coal mines of the county, where the non-union miners were peaceably employed. The officers were fired on while Deputy Lindle was in the act of reading the proclamation, and the first two shots were at such close range that they powder-burned Lindle's face. The fire was returned by the posse and two of the leading file on the miners' side were killed.

At the first trial two years ago, a jury rendered a compromised verdict, sentencing the three men to two years in the penitentiary. Immediately after giving this verdict three of the jurors made affidavit that six of their number were, during all the deliberation of the jury, in favor of acquittal, but that they had agreed to the verdict only as a compromise with contending factions of the jury. The case went to the Court of Appeals and the lower court was reversed.

The games will be played at Athletic park and will be called at 3:30 each afternoon. The work of erecting the grand stand is progressing nicely and everything will be ready by the date of the first K. J. T. league game here. The new grand stand is 36 yards in length and has a seating capacity of 600 or 700 people.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Preferred Against Casky Citizen—Accused Gives Bond.

Frank B. Hancock, a horticulturist of near Casky, and proprietor of Crosswood nursery, was taken into custody last Thursday by U. S. Deputy Marshal. The prisoner was brought before Commissioner Harry Ferguson, and failing to furnish a $1,000 bond, was taken to Oakesboro Thursday night.

Hancock was indicted in the Federal court at Owensboro about three weeks ago, on a charge of having used the United States mail with intent to defraud. At Owensboro he was released on bond, with Lawson Reno as his surety. The Owensboro Messenger says, in connection with the case, "Hancock is charged with having sent an order for a barrel of flour to W. A. Burkhardt, a miller. On the letter head used was printed Hancock's advertisement as a commission merchant. The flour was delivered and he used it for his own private consumption."

RACE QUESTION

Not Disturbing Whites or Blacks in Hopkinsville.

Well Considered Article From the Pen of Editor A. C. Banks.

As an evidence of the good feeling existing between the races in Hopkinsville, we reproduce this article from the colored paper, The Major. Here, as elsewhere in the South where the negroes are left alone, the race problem is solving itself.

NEGROES IN HOPKINSVILLE. Hopkinsville is a dry land town, but it is by no means void of the basic principles of the highest type of civilization. In speaking thus, we do not refer to the onward march of the whites alone, but of the colored citizens as well.

Of the former we must say that their movements speak volumes for their advancement made along all lines looking to the highest type of manhood and womanhood.

Their interest and respect for their colored brother is as good as we have been able to observe in any section, and far superior in disposition to the white people of many places in which the editor has lived and of which he has read.

As to labor, the colored people are given the preference in many lines, yet in many instances it can be said that foreign skilled labor has been allowed to push the Negro back in some instances.

This last feature has had the effect to make the colored brother save his earnings and accept the adage, that "every tub must stand on its own bottom."

A little jaunt about the city this week gave us great inspiration respecting the future prosperity of our colored citizens, and we would like to mention all of the improvements we noted concerning the many pleasant homes, but space forbids.

As for business men we have 10 grocers, 3 undertakers, 12 restaurants, 11 barbershops, 3 blacksmith shops, 1 confectionery, 5 painters and paper hangers, 2 stone contractors, 2 brick masons, a dispensary of wet goods, 1 printing and binding establishment, 5 plasterers, 1 sign writer, 1 dairyman.

Speaking of the professionals, we have them too. There are 18 teachers, 4 lawyers, 3 physicians, several musicians, and last, but not least, a respectable host of saintly divines.

We cannot exactly classify the mail carriers, but we take pleasure in informing the world that we have three negroes in that tribe, and that they are first-class carrying men.

RAILROAD RUMOR.

Claim That T. C. Has Been Secured by L. & N.

Quickly Denied By General Manager G. A. Clark at Nashville.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 24.—It was stated yesterday afternoon by a prominent official of the Louisville & Nashville that the company had purchased the Tennessee Central all the way from Clarksville to Harrison. It was said by the official, with the understanding that his name should not be used, that the Tennessee Central was purchased before President Jere Baxter resigned. He said: "The physical connection now being made at Nashville between the two roads is an element in carrying out the deal. The construction of the Tennessee Central into Harrison and the construction of the Louisville & Nashville from Oliver Springs to Harrison Junction is the closing up of the loop between Knoxville to Nashville and Clarksville."

Denied By Clark.

General Manager G. A. Clark, of the Tennessee Central, was seen Sunday night by a representative of The American and asked regarding the rumor from Chattanooga. He declared that there is absolutely nothing to the statement and that no such deal has been made.

Does Advertising Pay?

AN INTERESTING STORY.

"A Little Talk About a Big Success" is the title of an interesting and instructive 48-page pamphlet, by J. F. Draughon, the promoter of a stock company of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) recently organized to be known as Draughon's Practical Business College Company.

In a humorous, but convincing way, the pamphlet gives the history of the many ups and downs of the author since establishing his first business college on wheels fifteen years ago.

It is a story that may be a beacon light to guide one to success, especially when beset by difficulties and discouragement.

USE OF PRINTERS' INK.

Commenting on the use of printers' ink, Prof. Draughon says that his first investment of $250 in printers' ink fifteen years ago has been turned over and over by judicious advertising to the extent of half a million dollars since that date. Under the heading of "Does Advertising Pay," Prof. Draughon comments quite extensively on advantages and disadvantages of advertising, which comments will be read with much interest and profit by business men and others. From this department of the pamphlet we call the following:

"Being an extensive advertiser, I am often asked if I think that advertising pays, and to such inquiries I always reply that it depends upon the line of business, the merits of the article to be advertised and the manner of preparing and placing advertisements. While advertising does not always pay, I believe that to the advertiser of an article which contains the proper merit, judicious NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING will bring abundant returns. Continuous advertising starts an endless chain of results where the thing advertised fulfills every statement put before the public.

"The only satisfactory advertising that I have ever done, has been newspaper advertising and circulars sent to those who are supposed to be directly interested. I distribute but few circulars promiscuously, as I consider it unprofitable to do so. For my business, I think it best to first locate those interested by newspaper advertising, then follow up the inquiries with convincing literature."

Prof. Draughon devotes several pages to the subject of advertising. When one who has been as successful as Prof. Draughon speaks so favorably of NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING in preference to other means of advertising, it will, to those who heed his advice, save in many cases thousands of dollars that are so often spent for advertising through the wrong mediums.

The story goes on in an interesting manner, explaining the many difficulties encountered after his colleges had a migratory existence for sometime, in establishing Draughon's Practical Business College permanently in St. Louis, Mo.; Atlanta, Ga.; Montgomery, Ala.; Fort Worth, Tex.; Galveston, Tex.; Little Rock, Ark.; Shreveport, La.; and Nashville, Tenn.

It matters not what one's occupation may be, the pamphlet, "A Little Talk About a Big Success," will prove interesting, and Prof. Draughon will be glad to furnish FREE a copy to any one who requests it. Address: Draughon's Practical Business College Company, Nashville, Tenn.

Cures When Doctors Fail.

Mrs. Frank Chissam, Patterson, La., writes June 8th, 1901: "I had malaria fever in very bad form, was under treatment by doctors, but as soon as I stopped taking their medicine the fever would return. I used a sample bottle of Herbine, found it helped me. Then bought two bottles, which completely cured me. I feel grateful to you for which completely cured me. I feel grateful to you for furnishing such a splendid medicine, and can only recommend it to those suffering from malaria, as it will surely cure them." Herbine, 50c bottle at R.
C. Hardwick.

Georgetown, Ky., May 21.—The

For Those Who Live on Farms.

Dr. Bergin, Pana, Ill., writes:
"I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment always recommended it to my friends, and I am confident there is no better made. It is a dandy for burns." Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises,
which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency. 25c, 50c and $1.00 at R. C. Hardwick.

writes: "I have been troubled with biliousness, sick headache,
sour stomach, constipation, etc.,

disappointed until I tried your Dr.
Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I can cheerfully recommend it to any suffering from above complaints."

A lucky strike was made by the physician in Illinois who discovered
the formula of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin—lucky for all sufferers
from dyspepsia, constipation, stomach and bowel troubles.

Trainmen Hurt.

Several trainmen were badly hurt in a wreck on the Norfolk and Western railroad, caused by a fast passenger train running into an open switch at Valley Crossing, O.

Mark Twain says: "It is not always easy to stand properly—

still harder to see your friends and neighbors rejoicing in good health,
while you don't even dare to eat well's Syrup Pepsin. Keep your stomach and bowels in order. Eat what you want and envy no one.

BATTLE OF THE ALMANACS.

High School Debate Argued Along Lines of Divergent Statistics.

The rhetoric was and the victory
class of the East all evening high school, says the New York Sun, had their annual debate on Friday night on the question "Resolved, That we favor government ownership of public franchises." Government ownership of railroads was the main bone of contention, and the number of lines which the leading arguments in their oral arguments to back up their assertions. Take the year 1901, for instance, and DeWitt Warren, representing the East, found in red "that in 1901 there were 1,000 and 1,000 were in operation in this country. That is the authority to prove it."

Warren had the best of the debate
to try to get a few facts to support his figures. It also showed a good deal.

"My competitor's figures are far astray," he said. "In that year there were seventy thousand and seven hundred killed nearly twice as many as my worthy opponent would have you believe. Here is the authority to prove it."

During the rest of the debate,
which lasted until nearly midnight,
the battle of figures raged. The end came when one side, inadvertently mentioned the book its speakers flourished as the annual almanac of a morning newspaper. The other had the almanac of the opposition newspaper.

The debate was decided in the affirmative.

RESIGNED BY ARRANGEMENT.

How the Old Office Boy Got His Position Back.

Owing to the illness of his regular office boy, a doctor, some weeks ago,
engaged a new lad named Tommy.
says London Answers.

Tommy was a jewel, and when Joe,
the former messenger, was convalescent, the doctor was left to send Tommy off.

But Joe wanted to come back, and pleaded with his former employer.

A way out of the dilemma seemed to present itself, for the doctor said:
"You can have the situation again,
if you can arrange with Tommy."

"Very well, sir," replied Joe. "I think I can do that."

In a few moments Joe had thought
out a plan.

When the doctor returned that night to his surgery, he met a sight he had not bargained for.

The glass door was smashed to smithereens, a marble clock on the mantel was minus its hands, face and dial, and a handsome consulting-room chair reposed on three legs.

There was a heavy odor of drugs and the bottles which had contained them looked if anything, worse wrecks
than the doctor's patients.

There had evidently been a tremendous struggle; but Joe was in victorious possession, nursing a swollen cheek.

"Tommy's gone. I've arranged with him!" he said, with a grin.

QUEER CUSTOMERS.

Drunken Man Took a Big Department Store for a Pawnshop.

"Yes, we have some queer customers to deal with," said the girl in charge of the exchange desk in the department store, "but the widowers are the worst. They expect impossible things, especially those who have no prospect of getting married again, the ones, I suppose, who have had enough of it. Just as illustration, a man of this kind came in the other day with a pearl necklace, worth-well, I'm not going to tell you, but it was well up in the hundreds. 'I bought this for my wife,' he said, 'and I'd like to get a credit slip for it.' I think he had been drinking. 'When did you buy it?' I asked. 'Shortly before my wife died,' he replied. 'I looked in vain for any sign of mourning in his attire, and then I plucked up courage enough to say: 'When did your wife die?' He lurched a bit and then grabbed hold of the counter as though for support. 'Six years ago last August,' he said, defiantly. I smiled. I just couldn't help it. When the head of the jewelry department came there was a heart to heart talk, and they went away together. I guess what the bereaved husband wanted was a place with three gilded balls over the door."

How the Nations Have Grown.

During the last 30 years the population of Germany has increased 40 per cent, that of France 2 per cent,
that of the United Kingdom 80 per cent, and that of the United States 100 per cent.

Everybody's Magazine.

You will rarely see as interesting
a table of contents as that of the June number of Everybody's Magazine. Beginning with the full-page frontispiece of Thomas Waller's
Russell, who has taken Parnell's place as leader in the fight for Ireland's freedom, and ending with
"some additional remarks" by Simeon Ford, with his quaint and irresistible humor, the magazine is brim-full of bright, snappy, entertaining work by good writers, some of them well known, others who are sure to be. Then Ireland Will be Free, by Frederick James Gregg, makes romance of Ireland's long struggle for liberty, and at the same time reduces to simplicity the most discussed home-rule question.
Justus Miles Forman, in The Nec-dle of the Damned, weaves a difficult choice into a somewhat strenuous love story. Intimate Portraits as usual are exclusive and introduce you to people whom you very much wish to know. The Wooing of Ab-Te continues the Indian idyl begun in the May number. The Marquis and Miss Sally is a Western story by O. Henry. Twice Born, by Edmund Russell, is a description of childhood in India, which conjures up the dreamy atmosphere of the East. In A Dakota Romance, M. W. Law, while telling a strong love story manages to paint a convincing picture of emigrant life on the western prairie.
James L. Ford is at his best in The Coming Queen of Comedy,
Lillian Pettigill concludes Tolerance of the Home, making many interesting statements about the lives and thoughts of servant girls. Read Significant Autobiographies if you would know how it feels to be lifted from a small western town into Congress and out again. In The Imperturbable Moors, Will Payne
has written one of the finest character studies that has ever appeared in any magazine. Herman Whitaker, in The Wheel of the Potter, gives us a stirring tale of the Northwest. The four Little Stories of real life in this number are above
the average. Mary Stewart Cut-ting's Glad Tidings is an exceptionally good story. With the Procession is full of information, interest, and a great many bright things.
Don't fail to read it.

"I have derived great benefit from the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism and lumbago," says Mrs. Annie Hagelgans, of Tuckahoe, N. J. "My husband used it for a sprained back and was also quickly relieved. In fact it is the best family liniment I ever used. I would not think of being without it. I have recommended it to many and they always speak very highly of it and declare its merits are wonderful." For sale
by C. K. Wyly, druggist.

Marriage in India.

Marriage, no one escapes in India. It is, as death and birth, inevitable. Only birth and death are our finalities, marriage may come by choice, caprice, or accident;
these are not found in Indian dictionaries. The wisdom of selection is left to parents. Of course there are mistakes, surprises, disappointments, as everywhere. But I saw as much love-light in happy eyes in India as in any other country.—Edmund Russell in Ever-body's Magazine.

The Octopus.

One tentacle gripping the stomach,
another tickling the heart, a third fumbling around the liver, tightening their hold every hour—dyspepsia is the monster that does all this and worse. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will make it let go mighty quick. All druggists.

AUGUST 14TH.

Jeffries and Corbett Will Fight On Above Date.

San Francisco, Cal., May 19.—
James J. Jeffries and James J. Corbett today signed articles for a match to take place in San Francisco on or about August 14. The pugilists accepted the offer of the Yosemite club, which will allow the principals to divide between them 80 per cent. of the gross receipts.

A little life may be sacrificed to a sudden attack of croup, if you don't have Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil of hand for the emergency.

Not A Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50c, at R. C. Oets $12,500 Damages.

Frankfort, Ky., May 22.—The court of appeals affirmed the judgment of the Daviess circuit court, giving Thomas Ware's administrator $12,500 damages against the Cumberland telephone company. Ware, a lineman, was killed while stringing a wire that other employees had allowed to come in contact with a live electric light wire.

"What's in a name?" The word "bitters" does not always indicate something harsh and disagreeable. Prickly Ash Bitters is proof of this. It cleanses, strengthens and regulates the system thoroughly, yet it is so pleasant the most delicate stomach will not object to it. R. C. Hardwick, Special Agent.

Fined for Wearing Badge.

With a corps of musical blacksmiths in their red shirts, caps and leathern aprons, with anvils electrified till they give out sparks of fire when beaten and tones clear as church bells, with lowered lights and the full strength of the hand and singers, and in the beauty of the red glowing back-ground, it is little wonder that the public clamor for an encore again and again.
